LOCATION

In the heart of the city, next to Union Square and the cable cars, this historic hotel was built in the 1920s and faithfully restored in traditional San Francisco style. The 12-story structure, on the corner of Mason and Sutter streets, has 138 tastefully renovated guest rooms, including 13 suites, and is home to the famous Marines' Memorial Theatre, featuring touring Broadway productions and concerts. The property offers 15,000 square feet of elegant meeting and function space on the top floors of the building, and the 12th-floor restaurant and lounge provides a lively atmosphere with excellent food and views of the city.

MEETING/BANQUET FACILITIES

Five elegant, traditional meeting rooms are located on the 10th and 11th floors. The meeting space has exceptionally high ceilings, unique decor, large windows with natural light and views of Nob Hill or downtown San Francisco. All space is air conditioned and features a built-in sound system with audioconferencing capabilities. The property offers wireless and wired connectivity and the latest in audiovisual equipment. The hotel provides full-service catering and conference services.

The Marines' Memorial Theatre, located on the second floor of the property, once home to the American Conservatory Theatre and where many famous artists have performed, is a midsize (650-seat) commercial theater available for rent.
